Author Index to Volume 10

Affron, Matthew, Fernand Léger and the spectacle of objects 1

Andrews, Lew, Ordering space in Renaissance times: position and meaning in continuous narration 84

Bryden, Mary, The painted text: Maria Chevska and Hélène Cixous 366

Carrier, David, 'You, too, are in Arcadia': the place of the spectator in Matisse's Shchukin Triptych 119

Carson Pastan, Elizabeth, Tam haereticos quam Judaeos: shifting symbols in the glazing of Troyes Cathedral 66

Cole, William, Literal art? A new look at Doré's illustrations for Dante's Inferno 95

Corbett, David Peters, 'Collaborative resistance': Charles Ricketts as illustrator of Oscar Wilde 22

Cordulack, Shelley, Dubuffet and the word made flesh 311

Craven, Jennifer, Ut pictura poesis: a new reading of Raphael's portrait of La Fornarina as a Petrarchan allegory of painting, fame and desire 371

Dolin, Tim, Companion pieces: Dickens's sister-travellers 107

Edeline, F., Review essay: Pictorial concepts 190

Goring, Paul, The shape of To the Lighthouse: Lily Briscoe's painting and the reader's vision 222

Hannoosh, Michele, The allegorical artist and crises of history: Benjamin, Grandville, Baudelaire 38

Hollander, Martha, The divided household of Nicolaes Maes 138

Kupfer, Marcia, Medieval world maps: embedded images, interpretive frames 262

Lewis, Suzanne, Vision and revision; on 'seeing' and 'not seeing' God in the Dublin Apocalypse 289

Lilley, Ed, How far can you go? Manet's use of titles 163

Lundeen, Kathleen, Words on wings: Blake's textual spiritualism 343

Porter, David, Assembling a poet and her poems: convergent limit-works of Joseph Cornell and Emily Dickinson 199

Posèq, Avigdor W. G., Zadkine's Poet: 'Ut poesis sculptura' 55

Rehm, Ulrich, 'Accende lumen sensibus': illustrations of the Sherborne Missal interpreting Pentecost 230

Rossholm Lagerlöf, Margaretha, Poussin's use of rhetoric in the Birth of Bacchus 170

Soth, Lauren, Vincent van Gogh reads Harriet Beecher Stowe 156

Thompson, Hilary, Narrative closure in the vignettes of Thomas and John Bewick 395